CLASSIC COCKTAILS

Morning Glory Fizz

142

“That will give one an appetite and quieten the nerves.” –was once said about this classic, first published in 1895. It is designed to quickly and efficiently deglaze the brain after a long night of revelry.

Glenmorangie 10, Lemon, Syrup and Absinth. (e)

French 75

180

It could be named after the light artillery gun that ended WWI it has been a symbol for victory and celebration.

We believe the French 75 is best drunk as a “Tom Collins Royal”.

Hendrick’s Gin, Lemon and Sugar. Topped off with Champagne. (s)

The Last Word

142

Created and served the first time in the early 1900’s at the Detroit Athletic Club. Starting to bloom again after many years in the shadow.

Gordons Gin, Green Chartreuse, Maraschino Liqueur and Lime Juice.

Bee’s Knees

142

...is slang for “the best” and this is a cocktail worthy of the name.

Bareksten Botanical Gin, Lemon Juice, and Honey.

Toronto

142

The perfect digestivo. Crisp, bitter and smooth at the same time.

Woodford Rye, Fernet, Syrup and Angostura Bitters.

OUR TWISTS OF THE CLASSICS

The Nor Way 142

Our concoction of a Negroni.

Made with Aquavit and a Norwegian bitter, Marka.

Lysholm Linie, Marka Bitter, Antica.

Rhum & Stout 142

The now well known classic, Old Fashioned, made of pirates for pirates.

A sweeter, spicier with a hint of coffee and chocolate.

Plantation St Lucia, Stout Syrup, Abbot Bitters. (e)

T&T Boogie 142

The old Trinidad Sour in new clothes.

Angostura di Amaro, Rittenhous Rye, Lemon Juice, Syrup and a dash of

Disaronno Amaretto. (e)

Updated 142

...version of Up to Date. A less known and once-forgotten cocktail than it's big brother "Manhattan".

Linie Aquavit, PX Sherry, Grand Marnier Angostura Bitters

Rødtopp 142

A twist of the magnificent Clover Club. Made with a raspberry spirit and a raspberry liqueur, both distilled in Norway.

Rødtopp, Kimerud Raspberry Elixir, Lemon, Pomegranate, Bob's Bitters Liqueurice

HOUSE COCKTAILS

The Bohemian Flirt 142

Bring out the Bohemian side of you with this concoction of fine Norwegian Aquavit and good-old French liqueur.

Lysholm 52, Yellow Chartreuse, Apple, Lemon, Syrup and Cardamom Bitters. (e)

El Mexicano 142

Strong and spicy. The evil twin of the Margarita some have said.

Mezcal, Ginger, Chili, Lime, Syrup and Bob's Ginger Bitters.

Served with a rim of Grounded Pink Pepper and Salt

Mjølner 142

Tough enough?

Can you take a punch from the divine hammer of Thor?

Bareksten Fatlagret Gin, IPA syrup, Black Sea Salt (g)

Aperitivo Milano 142

Sweet as the voice of Maria Callas and chilly as the Aosta Valley.

A great way to cool down when the snow is gone.

Branca Menta, Lime Juice, Syrup, Peppermint Bitters and Fresh Mint Leaves

Sakura 桜 142

A beautiful marriage between the sweetness of the ume fruit, Japanese apricot, and the spiciness of the Rooibos.

Umeshu, Rooibos infused Belvedere, Lemon and Pomegranate (e)

SPIRITS

Aquavit is a traditional Scandinavian spirit, flavored mainly by caraway. Other herbs and spices that are used are anise, star anise, dill, fennel, cardamom, vanilla, coriander, lemon zest and track. Aquavit is for most Norwegians a spirit served at Christmas dinner, but some drink it all year.

We love to work with aquavit when making cocktails because of its intriguing flavors. You can of course also drink it straight up or on the rocks.
